

Pre-visit Narrative for Sensory Friendly Performance

- Saturday, May 13th at 1:00 p.m.
- This is a Prime Stage Production held at the New Hazlett Theater located at 6 Allegheny Square East Pittsburgh, PA.

I am going with _____ to see The Perks of Being a Wallflower production!

The Perks of Being a Wallflower is a Prime Stage production at the New Hazlett Theater on the Northside district of Pittsburgh.

We may travel to the New Hazlett Theater by car or bus.

We will enter through the doors and into the lobby of the theatre.

We may have to stand in line to get into the theatre. I will stand nicely in line while we wait.

I will see a lot of people.

If it is too loud, I may cover my ears, put on headphones, or ask an adult to take me to a quiet area.

When it is our turn we will give our tickets to a person in the lobby and they will tell us where to go.

There will be many volunteers to help us find our seats.

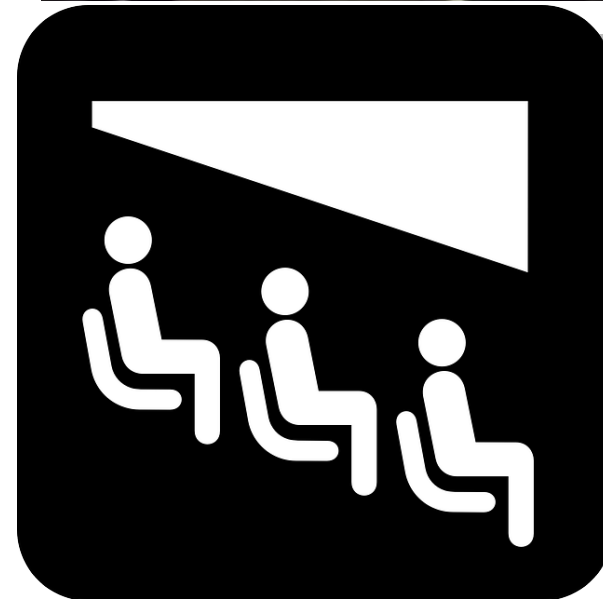

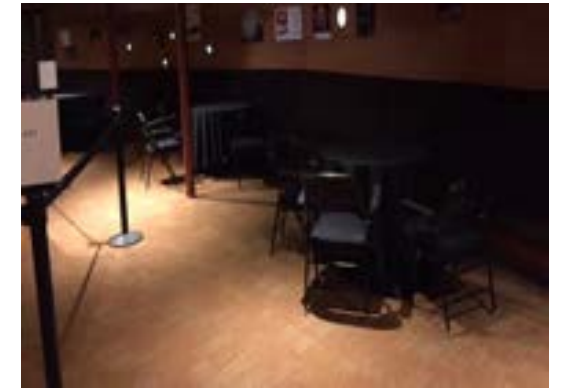

Before we go to our seats, I may ask to go the bathroom or water fountain if I want to.

When we get to our seats I will sit down nicely. We will sit on the first or second floor.

When the show starts the theatre will get a little darker and everyone will get quiet. I will be quiet during the show.

If the show is too loud I can let my family or companion know that I need a break and go to a quiet area. I will return when I am ready.

Perks of Being a Wallflower is about Charlie. Charlie is growing up and becoming an adult. He is learning to deal with adult issues and problems. We sometimes have to face some of the concerns Charlie faces.

In the middle of the show, we will have a break called Intermission.

During the break I may go to the lobby to do an activity or use the bathroom.

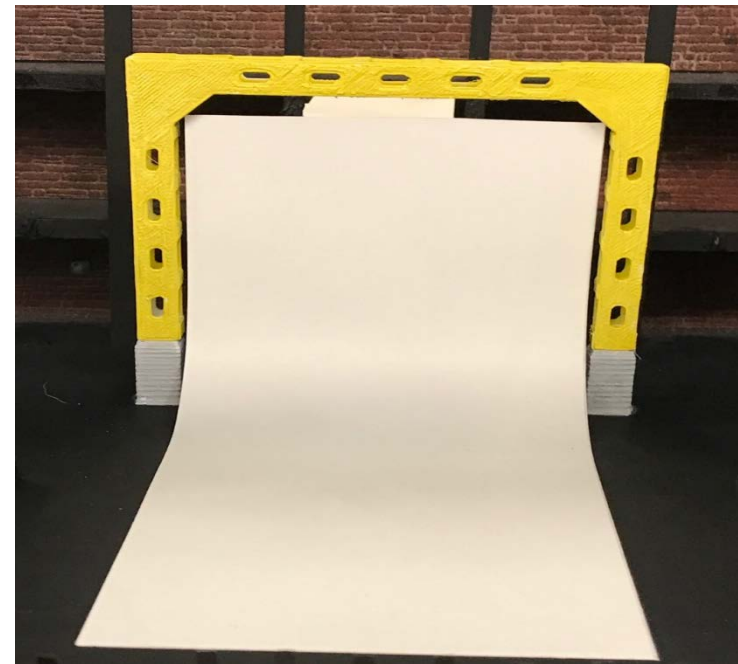

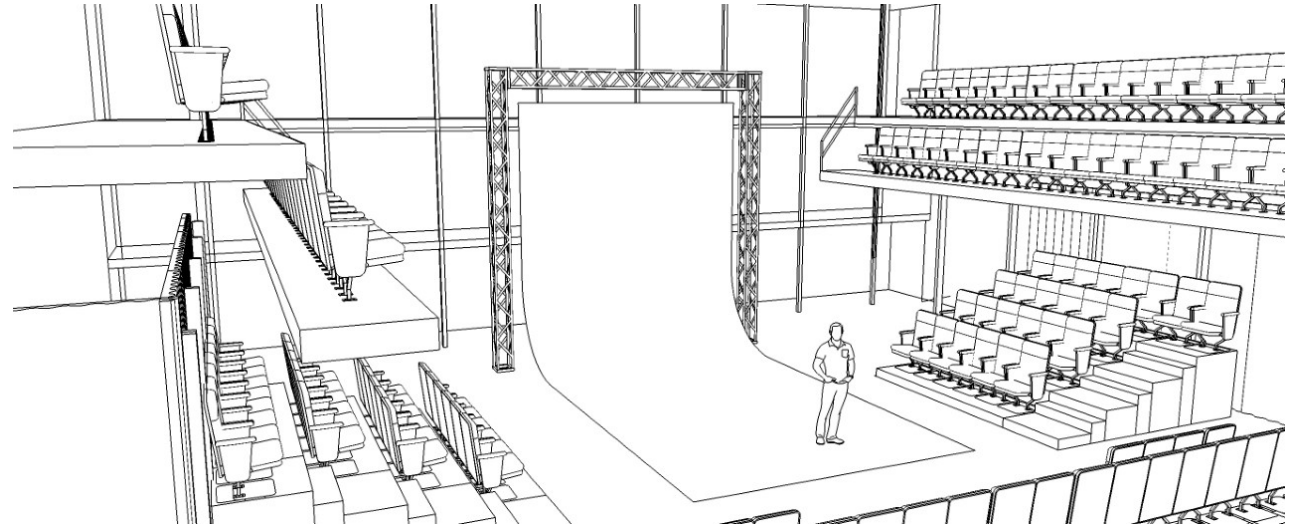

I can also ask to visit the quiet area or the sensory room.

After the intermission, everyone will return to their seats.

It will get darker and quieter again.

The actors will come back and finish their performance of The Perks of Being a Wallflower.

When the show is over, we will leave the New Hazlett Theater. I am very excited to go to the theater and see The Perks of Being a Wallflower!
